What Did You Think?

Review Your Favorite Raising Readers Books

Does your site have a particularly favorite Raising Readers book? You can help us build an online database of book reviews to help parents and other caregivers learn about our books and what makes them especially good reads for kids at certain ages.

Select the Current Books Collection button on our home page to select and review a title in current distribution. Or look under Previously Distributed Titles to review an older favorite.

*As soon as my daughter received this book at two months old, she loved it. It is the perfect size for small hands to touch and help turn the pages. She is drawn to the lovely art of the animals, especially the anteater and opossum.
Thank you. —Michelle T.*

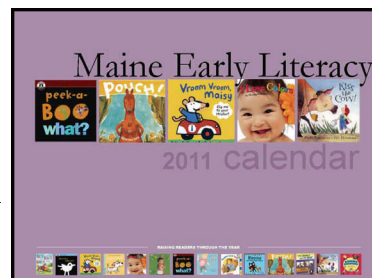

*I love this book! I think it's a beautiful book about bonding. I love reading it with my new baby, and my older child loves reading it with us as well.

2011 Early Literacy Calendar

We hope you're enjoying the 2011 edition of the Maine Early Literacy Calendar. Once again we partnered with Maine Roads to Quality to develop age- and developmentally-appropriate information about each title to be used in the upcoming year.

We hope you enjoy the sneak peek at what's coming in 2011. As each title turns over we'll incorporate the information on each book in this newsletter so you can share it with your patients. The calendar will be posted on our website in January. You can download and print individual pages to handout to parents with each book.

10 Great Years. As 2010 comes to a close, we also end our 10th Anniversary Celebration. Our thanks for your dedication and support of the program!
