Raising Readers Update

Check Out Our New Website

We've been hard at work updating our website to give it a fresh new look and make it even more user-friendly and informative.

www.raisingreaders.org

New Feature Fun Things to Do with Raising Readers Books

An exciting new component of the website is a series of activities, crafts and other fun things to do, that are related to some of the Raising Readers books. There are finger plays, activity sheets, and craft ideas.

Bright Idea: print off activity sheets and hand them out to parents along with the appropriate title. Or, recommend to parents that they visit the site to check out the new online activities.

New Feature Online Reporting & Ordering

A great new feature of the website is the online reporting and ordering capability. If you'd like to try it, give us a call and we'll get you set up.

Other program materials such as report and order forms, book lists, the monthly newsletter and our quarterly Issue Briefs are also available online. Check out the Healthcare Providers section

Updated Feature Searchable Book Database

Sites tell us that parents often ask them for suggestions of other great books to read to their children. Here's an easy way to help them out – recommend they try the searchable book database on our website.

The database can be searched by age group or by many different categories (alphabet, animals, poetry, families, etc.).
