Raising Readers Update

New Titles for the New Year

We'll be saying goodbye to some old favorites and welcoming some new titles in 2007. The enclosed list shows all the new titles that will be used in the upcoming year.

Different age groups will change at various times throughout the year. This edition highlights changes happening in the next few weeks.

Gossie will be the new 18 month book. It will begin shipping at the end of December.

Important Note

We know the new titles are really tempting, but it's important that you use all your old titles before ordering the new ones.

We have a budget like everyone else and need to use up all the books already on hand before starting to use the new titles.

Thanks!

Holiday Reminder

The Raising Readers offices will be closed December 25 and 26. Please plan ahead when ordering. Thanks!

Special Edition

A very special edition of Dog Blue will rotate into the four year slot! The first page has been printed with a special message from Raising Readers about the importance of reading aloud. Even better – the last page has been printed with activities related to the book. The concept is to show families additional ways they can share the book. It will start shipping at the end of December.

Reminder: Additional book-related activities are still available on our website.

New Five-Year Collection

One of our most popular titles has been the special collection in the five year slot. We're very excited to offer a brand-new collection!

Like the original, 5 Stories from Maine is made up of books by Maine authors and illustrators. We think you'll like this one, too! It will start shipping in late December.
